MOORE'S ADDRESS ON TRADE MATTERS

HEAD OF NEGRO FEUDISTS HELD

MAN WHO STARTED THE UPRISINGS IN ARKANSAS RECENTLY UNDER ARREST AT TOPEKA

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A description of the accomplishment of the International High Commission toward promoting trade relations among the countries of the Americas was given to the Pan-American Financial Conference today by John Bassett Moore, vice-chairman of the commission, which was created by the first Pan-American Financial conference held in Washington in 1915.

"Substantial ameliorations of methods of customs administration have been secured in various quarters," said Mr. Moore. Regulations permitting the simultaneous loading and unloading of cargoes, and the advance preparation of cargoes, have been brought about in numerous countries.

"Progress has been made with the adoption of a uniform statistical classification of merchandise. Six countries have already taken favorable action, and two more are understood to be at the point of so doing.

"Every effort has been made to advance uniform legislation in regard to bills of exchange, checks, bills of lading, and warehouse receipts.

"We seem to be rapidly approaching the time when, so far as concerns bills of exchange, there will, in effect, be only two systems, in use in the Western Hemisphere, based, respectively on the Hague Rules of 1912 and the United States Negotiable Instruments Act of 1916.

"The Commission has also been glad to observe a growing interest in the adoption of uniform legislation on the subject of warehouse receipts, as well as on that of conditional sales."

Mr. Moore suggested that countries of the southern group which had ratified a treaty for the international protection of trade marks be permitted to register trademarks at the international bureau in Havana pending the establishment of a bureau at Rio Janeiro, which awaits ratification of the treaty by a sufficient number of countries of the southern group.

Progress has been made toward facilitating operations of commercial travelers, he said, by a treaty which substitutes a single national fee in place of local taxes on travelers. This convention has been signed and ratified by five countries and signed by three more while seven others are ready to sign.

A treaty for the establishment of an international gold clearance fund to assure the safety of deposited gold, avoid its shipment and stabilize exchange has been signed by two countries and approved in principle by eight others.

Agreements for the arbitration of commercial disputes have been made between the United States Chamber of Commerce and the national Chambers of Commerce of Uruguay, Ecuador, Panama, and Guatemala. Other agreements are being negotiated.

Bill Coffman Denies Playing Crooked in Ugly Man's Contest

The News yesterday printed the results of the ugly man's race at the carnival last week, announcing Bill Coffman as the winner, and in the article was one statement that Bill takes exception to.

It was stated that Bill Gregg had alleged that Bill stole the votes that were cast early in the game for J. W. Davis. Bill says that he ran a fair, square race and that he wants his friends to know it.

He denies positively that he resorted to the customary tactics of Oklahoma politics in winning this election, and he is loath to have it go out that he would resort to any such methods to secure this signal honor.

We take pleasure in making this correction and are inclined to believe Coffman when he states on his honor that Bud Gregg is just sore because he was defeated and circulating this political canard simply to heal his own wounds.

American Literature

Books That Express American Ideals, Purposes, and Tendencies, Carefully Selected, With the Advice of Scholarly Men Whose Judgment in This Subject Is of the Highest Value. Poetry and History Will Be Included in Other Courses of Reading.

READING COURSE NO. 8

(A certificate, bearing the seal of the United States Bureau of Education, signed by the Commissioner of Education, will be given to each person who gives satisfactory evidence of having read all the books on the accompanying list. You are invited to join the great national reading circle, making your own selection from the reading courses provided.)

In other courses of reading, already arranged by the Bureau of Education, books have been selected from the literature of most or all of the cultured peoples of the world. There are, however, many individuals who would like to have some direction for a course of reading in American literature alone, to the end that they may gain some knowledge of those books that express our own ideals, "purposes and tendencies. For these the following list of books has been arranged. In this as in other lists no claim is made for any book that is absolutely the best of its class.

Comparative merit in literature, especially in modern literature, is largely a matter of personal judgment. But the list has been selected with much care and with the advice of scholarly men whose judgment in this subject is of the highest value. Poetry and history have been excluded. These will be included in other courses of reading to be arranged later.

For admission to this course it is necessary only to write to the Home Education Division of the Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., giving your name, postoffice address, your age, and a very brief statement of your education and occupation.

Readers who wish to secure the bureau's certificate must notify the bureau at the time they begin each book, and when each book is finished they must send a summary consisting of a description of the principal characters, the chief episodes, and their own impressions. Some of the books do not lend themselves to this form of summary. In those cases send a brief statement of the essential features of each book.

By application to local or state libraries readers may be able to borrow these books. The Bureau of Education does not furnish them.

To each person who gives satisfactory evidence of having read all the books on the list a certificate will be awarded, bearing the seal of the United States Bureau of Education and signed by the Commissioner of Education. All men and women who want to know the best there is in the literature of the world and to gain the inspiration it gives are invited to join this national reading circle, and it is hoped many thousands may do so.

PONTOTOC COUNTY SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Steedman school opened December 29 with a fair attendance which has been steadily increasing until at this time. The beginning of the third week we have seventy-two pupils enrolled and more coming every day.

We should like to impress upon parents the necessity of entering at once, all children between the ages of eight and eighteen years, in order that the compulsory law which requires sixty-six and two-thirds per cent of the term, may be complied with.

The poultry show scheduled for January 12 failed to materialize on account of bad weather and is now indefinitely postponed until a more favorable time.

Lee and Grace Barnes of the eighth grade, were called to Ada Friday to attend the funeral of their nephew.

Miss Standridge of the primary department transacted business in Ada Friday and Saturday.

Brook Haven school is progressing very nicely and the attendance is very good considering the weather of the past week.

Owing to the bad weather last Tuesday the poultry show was postponed till the following Monday. But the pupils who brought fowls Tuesday were not altogether disappointed, for five dollars was given away as prizes by the teacher.

The pupils have about completed the sale of lead pencils for which the school is to receive a beautiful framed picture. The pupils have worked faithfully in this work and the one who sells the most will receive a fountain pen as their reward.

Friday night there was a pie supper at the school house. The proceeds will be used to buy library books. Also on the same night a literary society was organized.

Mr. Tom W. Smith, one of the state rural school supervisors, accompanied by the county superintendent visited Colbert school Monday to inspect the course being given in Vernal Agriculture.

Loveland school will be represented in the county contests this spring. Work has already been started along this line.

Some repairs have been made on the school building this month, but we still need drinking fountains and playground equipment. The school plans to have a box supper in the near future for the purpose of getting these things and to help standardize our school.

This school is being taught by Mr. Harris and Mrs. Lamb. They have the school well in hand and are doing good work. There were forty-five pupils present and 100 per cent at work. Very little improvement has been made on the building and school grounds.

The next school was Ahloso. Mr. Roper and Mrs. Satterfield are the teachers. This school was small, only thirty-five present, yet they were doing splendid work. Much improvement has been made in this district. School painted, drinking fountains, desks installed and a neat four room cottage for the teachers has been built.

Richard Burton, professor of English literature in the University of Minnesota; and William Lyon Phelps, professor of English literature in Yale University, have assisted the Bureau of Education in directing this course.

In writing about this course refer to it as "United States Bureau of Education, Home Education Division, Reading Course No. 8," or as "The American Literature Course."

Next point was Owl Creek. On nearing the school you could see that the people of this district were interested in the welfare of their children. They have installed chemical toilets, sanitary drinking fountain and sanitary heating system. The attendance was small in this school, but Mr. Priest and Miss Neil Robinson were busy and getting good results from their class work.

Haskell was the next school visited. Here I found Miss Mattie McCord domiciled in a neat one room building with thirty-five pupils and handling all grades from the first to the eighth. Yet, Miss McCord seemed to be at home and the interest and work of the pupils was fine, even under those conditions.

Next place was Lula, a little town on the M. O. & G. Here I found a fine school spirit. They have added another room and one more teacher. They are making their improvements modern and up to date from a sanitary point of view.

This school has a ten acre campus and it is nicely fenced and a neat little four room teacherage built on the campus. In this teacherage lives Mr. C. W. White, who is principal of the school. They are doing one year of high school work for which they are accredited. Mr. White is hoping to add one or two more districts to this and build it up to a four year high school.

From Lula I went to Hall's Hill. Miss Savanna Keithley is teaching at this school. Her work was first class and the school interest and spirit were fine. She has all the common school grades and 36 pupils in attendance. This is one of the schools that take interest in the poultry work. They will have a poultry show when the weather is more favorable.

My next visits were the schools in the Conway district. They have two schools, one taught by Mr. Homer Miller and the other by Miss Nettie Qualls. I found these schools in good shape and extra good attendance. The attendance is generally a good index to the school interest.

The work as a whole that I found in my week's round was most gratifying.

Woman Tells How It Feels to Sleep Sixty-Nine Days

By the Associated Press

(By MRS. DORA MINTZ)
How does it feel to be brought back from the land of the dead to the land of the living?

I can answer that question in four words, "It feels like heaven." But in order that the readers of the News may understand my strange affliction I must go back to the days when I had the influenza. That was during the latter part of September. I had recovered enough to be up and doing some of my housework when I began to feel drowsy all of the time.

Became Alarmed.

Finally, when I went to sleep leaning against the kitchen door, I became alarmed and had my husband send for the doctor. He had put me to bed and all I can remember about his being there was that I felt glad that he had said I needed rest.

On October 6, after the doctors had pronounced my case spinal men-

THE man or woman afflicted with backache, swollen muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic pains or other symptom of kidney trouble is entitled to sympathy and should have help.

Nature gives early warning of kidney trouble by puffiness under eyes, spots before the eyes, dry mouth, biliousness, weakness and pale, waxy, dry skin.

It is wise to neglect the slightest symptom of kidney trouble. Give the kidneys the help they are calling for.

tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys and help rid the body of poisons. With foley, and bladder processes stimulated, appetite is restored, resulting sleep is peaceful and health, strength and energy come as a natural result.

C. F. Reynolds, Elizira, N. Y., writes: "Three months ago I was sick in bed with kidney trouble. My back ached to severely I could not get up. We had a box of Foley Kidney Pills and I sent for some and had taken them every day. For three days I was up out of bed and upon keeping the treatment up for some time I was able to go to work. Since then I have had no more backache and no trouble with my kidneys."

with the vibration caused by playing on his violin.

The last thing I remember is the doctor in charge of my case saying,

"You wouldn't let me hold your hand, would you, Mrs. Mintz?"

Although I was not conscious I can remember thinking it a good joke, and said laughing, "Of course you can."

The doctor then predicted that I would get well and a few days later I really woke up and the time I am awake is growing longer each day.

Unusual Value-In Tires for Small Cars

Not only is characteristic Goodyear merit conspicuous in Goodyear Tires for small cars but ordinarily the first cost is found to be not greater than that of other tires; often it is actually less.

The combination of unusual value in first cost and very low final cost, of course, is a result of Goodyear experience, expertness and care employed as insistently in the making of 30x3-, 30x3 1/2- and 31x4-inch tires as it is in the construction of the famous Goodyear Cord Tires used on the highest-priced automobiles.

For this reason more cars using these small sizes were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

Get this unusual tire value to enjoy on your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other small car, at the nearest Goodyear Service Station. Get these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes at this station.

30x3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $1.75

THAT STONEWALL.
WAS TRYING to get me.
AND DIRECTLY.
THE OPERATOR asked me.
IF I was me.
OR IF I was I.
WHICHEVER IT is.
AND I told her I was.
AND SHE said.
"All Right, Mr. Gaines"
AND AWAY off.
ABOUT A thousand miles.
OR MORE.
I COULD hear a voice.
AND I hollered to him.
TO TALK louder.
BUT HE couldn't.
OR WOULDN'T.
OR SOMETHING.
AND FINALLY.
I DECIDED.
THAT I'D make out.
I WAS understanding him.

AND END the strain.
SO I hollered.
"ALL RIGHT."
AND "YES".
EVERY FEW seconds.
AND AT last.
HE HUNG up.
AND THIS morning
I GOT the following letter:
IN THE Mail:
"AS PER our telephone conversation yesterday, I am sending you four tickets for our entertainment. Please send check for four dollars at once. Signed, W. W. Gaines.
AND OF course.
THERE'S NOTHING that I can do.
BUT TO send the money.
BUT ALL the same.
I CAN'T help.
BUT FEEL rather sore.
AT THE management.
OF THE telephone company.
AND IF anybody wants.
THE TICKETS.
I'LL SELL them.
AT HALF price.
BECAUSE I can't go.
TO STONEWALL.
THAT NIGHT.
I THANK you.

MR. SEAGLE AND THE NEGRO SPIRITUALS

The songs we love best are those associated with childhood. So to Oscar Seagle who was raised in the South, no songs make a greater appeal than the negro spirituals. These expressions born of the travail of the slave's life, and filled with the hopes and fears, the longings and desires of the servile race—are in the estimation of many critics, America's greatest contribution to the world's music.

For a number of years, Seagle has wanted to place these songs upon his recital program, but until this past spring, it has been an impossibility because the singer had been unable to secure arrangement of them suitable for recital work. At that time, however, H. T. Burleigh, the negro composer, furnished him with arrangements of a half dozen or so. He sung them first in Brooklyn, and has included them in every program he has given since. Their success was instantaneous and has been tremendous. They are the sort of song that not only appeals to the hearer's emotions but even set his feet shuffling. Seagle will appear at the Normal College, Feb. 5th.

WANTS HIS MONEY BACK

"I can thank Mr. O'Brien, a neighbor, for my recovery from severe colic attacks and stomach trouble that nearly forced me to cross the river Jordan. I spent thousands of dollars in the past nine years for doctors and medicine and would have died but for my neighbor's advice to use May's Wonderful Remedy. I wish I had the money back I spent for other medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Allen Oil of Fine Grade if Price Is Criterion to Go By

ALLEN, Okla., Jan. 21.—Early in November, 1919, Allen oil was selling for $1.25 a barrel and today the same oil is selling for $2.25 a barrel. Within the past two months such is the record of Allen oil. The first raise came about the 15th of November when it went to $1.40, and on December 22nd the price was raised to $1.90, January 1 to $2, and today it is selling at $2.25. Without a doubt Allen is the future center of Oklahoma oil activities. These advances are proof that the product of the Allen field is mighty good.

For grades 1 and 2: South of Main street between Katy and Frisco, East of Frisco and West of Katy, district formerly known as South Ward.

For grades 3 and 4: South of 15th street, west of Broadway to Frisco R.R.

This arrangement will allow all pupils in the first and second grade in what has been south ward to use one room in the frame building on the High School campus and will assign them to one teacher. At present there are 90 children enrolled in the first grade and 66 in the second. If all these children come to the frame building there will be 156 of the masking accommodation in one room provided with about 50 seats and asking service from one teacher. At the same time there will be two rooms, new, modern and sanitary and two teachers at the new building with only a few pupils enrolled. I hesitate to draw a line on Broadway and assign all children east of that line and south of 13th street to the new building, but I am hoping that all parents in that district will see the situation and send their children to the new building. The same condition will exist in regard to the third and fourth grade. There will be about 70 children in these grades in the district indicated above and these children will of necessity be assigned to the remaining room in this building.

The Junior and Senior High School will occupy all of the High School building. The enrollment in these two departments next semester will exceed 400, enough now to fill almost to capacity for high school purposes alone the whole of the high school building. And still we grow and still people come

WHEN THE LEADERS LED

The other day when the lower house of the American congress had nothing else to do, it got to talking about how commanding officers now stay off the firing line during battles. In a speech of more than ordinary interest, Representative Sherwood of Ohio discussed the fearlessness of generals during the war between the states and told of the large number of generals killed in action during that struggle. A fact that lent importance to the speech was that Sherwood enlisted as a private in an Ohio regiment in 1861, and was a brigadier general when the war closed in 1865, being under fire 123 times.

According to General Sherwood, 121 generals were killed in the war of the sixties. Of these, 75 were Confederate generals and 46 were Union generals. The Union lost 12 major generals, the Confederacy 11. The Union lost 34 brigadiers, the Confederacy lost 64. Because of a ruling by Secretary Stanton, colonels commanded Union brigades, which causes the Confederate loss in commanding officers to appear greater than those of the Union.

During the war between the states the Confederacy lost four lieutenant generals—Stonewall Jackson, Leonidas Polk, A. P. Hill, and Albert Sidney Johnston. The latter was the only general on either side in command of an army of the first magnitude to be killed in action.

At the battle of Franklin, where the Confederates lost 40 per cent of their numbers engaged, General Sherwood declares that more generals were killed or wounded than fell in all the armies engaged in the World war. At Franklin the Confederacy lost 12 commanding generals, including Pat Cleburne, who was buried on the only field he ever lost.

Vivid descriptions are given by General Sherwood of the death of General Harker at Kenesaw, General McPherson at the battle of Atlanta, of General Polk on Pine Mountain, and General Cleburne at Franklin. He tells how General Logan rallied his men and saved the Union army at Atlanta, how General Howard led the charge at Burnt Hickory, and of the heroism displayed by General Joe Hooker at Resaca.

A half century ago men were led by individual daring and not by mathematics. In the struggle between the states, commanding officers won battles by leading their men in battle and by their own heroism inspiring their followers. Such devotion caused the almost unprecedented slaughter of commanding officers in both armies. During the recent World war commanding officers were rarely seen by the rank and file. The rules of war had changed. A general is no longer a leader; he is a commander.

Of course Jake Hamon was selfish and dishonest in pretending to support General Wood in order to use the Wood following in his own fight for national committeeman. And of course Jim McGraw was absolutely unselfish and unquestionably honest in opposing "instructions for any candidate" until he saw that Wood was a winner and needed Wood's following in his own race for national committeeman.

A good friend of ours suggests that we write a ringing editorial criticising the resolutions adopted by the democratic women in their county convention last Saturday. We have always been ready to do anything once, but we don't want anyone to believe that we ever even thought about criticising those resolutions. Life insurance is nothing but a post mortem advantage anyway.

Mere men who have been declaiming for years that women would not take any interest in politics were not at the county convention in Ada Saturday. If they were, they will never say it again. The convention was one of the best attended ever held in Pontotoc county.

Another thing that puzzles us: Why will a city move heavens and earth to get some factory located in its midst, and then move heavens and earth to handicap it and prevent its success.

Mr. Harrel of the Fifth now claims that he has been misrepresented. Possibly so, Mr. Harrel, but not half so bad as the Fifth has been.

The youngest lady who attended the women's convention Saturday was only eight months old. The oldest one was not present.

WILSON BUILDING SCORING MACHINE

HAS WIDE RANGE OF MATERIAL AND PROMISES TO OUT-CLASS ANYTHING IN THESE PARTS.

That E. C. Wilson is building a fighting and scoring basketball machine out of his Pedagogs is evident to any one who will take the time to witness an afternoon practice. If one does not have time for this, by all means he ought to go out Thursday night to watch the quintet cage the sphere.

Wilson is not building one machine, but two—two with pep, precision and speed. He has divided the bunch into the blacks and the whites, the color corresponding to the descendants of Ham supposedly being the best cagers. In the practice last afternoon, the color of the mountain snow was almost as much to be preferred as the more dusky bunch.

To take up the blacks first, it will be well to recall that it is from these that the players for Thursday night will probably be selected. As forwards there is Conn Roach, on the left.

Conn is trotting some this season, shooting accurately and is, in the opinion of many of the fans,

the start of the quintet. On the other side as a running mate is Chism or Kidd, both huskies and go-getters.

Chism is fast and has good form.

Owing to Kidd's height he is hard to get around, though Kidd is also a wonderful center. Either of these two can make a great mate for Roach. It is likely that Chism will start Thursday evening and Kidd will be in the central position. Toliver is also good on this forwarding business, and he may be used at least part of the time. Then, too, there is Newcomb, general utility man, who is a star at any place.

For the center Wilson has a wide range of material. Kidd is good, but he is followed closely by Ingram and Sherman. Both of the latter have good reach and can follow up the ball or switch to a guarding position at ease. The old idea that the only thing a center has to do is to tap off the ball has been knocked into smithereens by Wilson, and he is training centers who can cover the whole field of play, shoot goals, guard or pass with precision.

For the guards there are Heard,

Vernon, Ingram or Toliver. Heard is fast and a dandy passer. Vernon is also fast and has the added adantage of reach and weight. These make a good team, though neither is perfect with the dribble.

Among the whites there is a host of good material which can be called into use at any time. C.

Patterson and H. Roach make a good pair of forwards. Brents and

E. Patterson are effective guards and "Tater" King is a center of some proportions. This team would make the average look like thirty cents with the "3" erased.

Two weak places have shown up thus far this season. The goal shooting is not as accurate as it should be, and the passing is sometimes wild. The handling of the ball could be improved a bit without serious injury to the scoring ability of the five. But these things are being worked out rapidly and marked improvement is seen from day to day.

Baptists, Take Notice.

The basketball team from the Oklahoma Baptist University will play the East Central State Normal tomorrow (Thursday) night, and we are especially anxious that all our people go. We are interested, or ought to be, in all kinds of innocent amusement such as this, and ought to give it our hearty support. We ought to attend all these games that we can possibly find time for, but I am especially anxious for us to give this game our support.

I have gotten it from good authority that it will be entirely permissible for all Baptists to "root" for the O. B. U. boys, but absolutely all others must be for East Central. This is a happy arrangement and it is very kind indeed for us to be given this privilege and we ought to take advantage of it.

Let every Baptist in Ada be there, and let's show the East Centralites just what Baptists can do with the "sphere," and show them that we can put it all over them.—C. G. Morris.

Stock Markets

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, Jan. 19th, 1920. Though hog receipts were liberal, demand was urgent and prices were 10 to 25 cents higher than Saturday. Sheep receipts were the largest of the year thus far. Lambs were quoted steady to weak, and other grades steady, top lambs $19.35. Cattle were in moderate supply and sold slowly at steady prices. Native steers sold up to $14.50 and pulp fed steers up to $12.50.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 16,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs, and 13,000 sheep, compared with 17,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs, and 6,000 sheep a week ago, and 18,225 cattle, 29,675 hogs, and 7,100 sheep a year ago. Outside of a few carloads of cattle from Texas, New Mexico, and Colorado, and sheep from Colorado, the offerings were from Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Beef Cattle

Prices for fat cattle today were practically the same as late last week. The early trade showed no particular snap, but later became fairly active. With hogs selling above $15.00, and lambs $18.50 to $19.35, beef cattle are relatively low, and many traders expect an improvement in prices soon. Most of the steers today were short fed grades that sold at $12.00 to $13.50 and better kinds up to $14.50. Some Colorado pulp fed steers brought $12.50. Cows and heifers sold at steady prices. "Canners" brought $5.50 to $6.25, cutters $6.50 to $10.75, and butcher grades $7.75 to $10.75, with prime cows $1.00 to $12.50. Veal calves and bulls were firm.

Stockers and Feeders

Feeders sold at steady prices and stockers were quoted stronger. General demand was about normal for this season of the year. Stockers showed a wide range in quality with prices from $7.75 to $11.50. Fleshy feeders brought $12.00 to $13.25, and others $9.50 to $11.75. Stock cows and heifers were in active demand at $6.50 to $9.00, and stock calves sold slowly at $8.00 to $11.50.

Hogs

Active demand forced hog prices up 10 to 25 cents to the high level of last week. The top price was $15.30, and the bulk of the offerings sold at $15.00 to $15.25.

Quality of the offerings was about the same as last week. Average weight here is 10 to 15 pounds less than at other Missouri River markets, yet the packers droves show a higher average cost here than at competitive points. Pigs and thin hogs are finding a ready outlet at $13.50 to $15.25.

Sheep and Lambs

Sheep receipts today were 13,000, question is presented in the Book of Romans. Every Christian and every sinner should be interested in God's answer to the soul's greatest question. The meeting begins at 7 o'clock.—C. V. Dunn, Minister.

ITALY REPORTED IN GRIP OF RAIL STRIKE

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Northern and central Italy are in the grip of a general railway strike, but southern Italy is not so seriously affected, according to the Turin correspondent of the Petite Parisian. The Italian government was able to run a few trains over the principal lines yesterday, all of them being heavily guarded by troops armed with machine guns.

Martial law is in force in the principal cities of the country, the streets of which are patrolled by cavalry and are under the guns of artillery units. Theatres and all places of amusement were ordered to close at 8 o'clock in the evening and everyone is forbidden to use automobiles or bicycles. The only disorders are reported from Genoa where shots were fired at a train.

E. C. S. N. Popularity Contest

Following the precedent set by older and larger institutions of learning, the East Central State Normal is now conducting a popularity contest. Its purpose is to lend attractiveness to and assistance in the publication of the annual, "The Pessagl." As is customary in the universities and colleges each year, certain young women from various classes are nominated by the students for the popularity contest and the votes are cast, each exacting one penny. The votes, together with the name of the young woman for whom they are cast, are placed in a sealed envelope and dropped into the voting box. Thusly conducted the E. C. S. N. contest will be worked out. Boxes for this purpose have been placed at the college, Mrs. Land's, the Palm Garden, The Model, Gwin & Mays Drug Store.

Each class has elected a representative and the privilege of submitting other names is extended to the townspeople. The following names are now on the contest record: Carrie Roach, senior, 50 votes; Alma Mount, junior, 275 votes; Corinne Moore, junior; Velma Elliott, Sophomore, 4 votes; Gladys Crumley, freshman, 1100 votes; Bessie Kitchens, freshman; Viola Hardin, second year; Jewell Crumley, first year, 10 votes. Voting privileges are extended to both students and townspeople. The contest is now on and will continue until Saturday, Jan. 24. Everybody is cordially invited and urged to take part. Great interest and rivalry is being manifested among classes, and it is expected that the townspeople will, as they always have, loyally support the college in this new activity.

ELECTION OF SPONSORS

All the boys and girls of the high school were gathered in chapel Friday morning for the purpose of electing a company sponsor and squad sponsors. Mr. Fentem called the meeting to order and appointed those who were to have charge of the election.

Mrs. Bullock was appointed secretary, Mr. Potter and Mr. Bradshaw head-tellers, and Mr. McAlister collector. Then Mr. Fentem selected the permanent reporters for the Cadet; Catherine Taylor, Donna Belle Lee, and Roy McKeown, who were to record all the proceedings.

The boy's company fell in in wall-scaling squads, and ballots were distributed among them for the selection of the company sponsors. After each boy had made his choice Mr. McAlister collected the ballots and told them off. The choice was between Bernice Roach, Catherine Griffith, and Alice McLachlan. Ballots were again distributed and the final choice of the boys for their company sponsor proved to be Miss McLachlan. Immediately after her election Mr. Fentem presented her to the company leader, Arnold Mallory.

Following the election of the company sponsor, ballots were distributed among the girls who were to write on them their choice for the nine squad sponsors. When Mr. McAlister had collected the ballots and had begun to tell them it was found that there was much competition. The count was completed in the afternoon and the results were posted on the gym blackboard. Those chosen were Berenice Roach, Catherine Griffith, Mary Marshall, Nora Abney, Clarine Roach, Ora Ewing, Alice Gowing, Gladys Gilstrap and Marguerite Anderson. These represent the popular sentiment of the high school girls. All of them are expected to fill their offices in the best way possible.

Later in the evening sealed envelopes were passed among the squad leaders, each envelope containing the name of the sponsor for his squad. The results were: first squad, Bernice Roach; second squad, Mary Marshall; third squad, Marguerite Anderson; fourth squad, Clarine Roach; fifth squad, Nora Abney; sixth squad, Alice Gowing; seventh squad, Catherine Griffith; eighth squad, Ora Ewing; and ninth squad, Gladys Gilstrap.

Miss Alice McLachlan, the boy's choice for the company sponsor, will undoubtedly prove able to handle her new office satisfactorily. She has been in Ada five years, during which time she has become one of the most popular girls in the high school. This is her fourth year at the high school, where she is a senior. She is now playing basketball for the second year, as forward. She is a member of the S. & C. Society. This year she has been active as a senior and was placed on the Annual Staff as Photographer. She will fill her place as she has every place which she has held so far.

Choir Meeting—Christian Church. The Christian Church choir will meet this evening at eight o'clock for practice. All members are requested to be present, and any one wishing to join the choir will be cordially welcome.

Letter of Thanks.

I want to thank my friends who supported me in the race for Queen of the Carnival and assure each of you that I appreciate your vote fully as much as the I had won the contest.

Yours truly,

BILLIE BORN.

HARD-BOILED WISDOM

Walt Mason

When once again we use our heads and calm become, and thrifty, there'll be no room for noisy Reds, with theories wild and shifty. The man who owns a house and lot, a garden in its season, has little use for ribald rot that seems to smack of treason. The man who has a panay bed, with tulips for a border, would sell all agitators dead; he's strong for law and order. The clerk who has a bank account, the blacksmith or mechanic is tired when freaks the rostrum mount and try to raise a panic. Upheaval is the worst of fakes, though in gay rags they robe her; thrif is the medicine that makes a nation sane and sober. We blow the ruffles left and right while daylight hours are sunny, and then we roar around all night and say we need more money. It isn't what we earn that counts when times are most distressing; it's what we save, in small amounts, that keeps the sheriff guessing. Oh, then, no longer let us drift along with reckless spender, but march beneath the flag of thrif and preach its dazzling splendors.

MUSKOGEE MAY BE THE PRESIDENT

DIRECT DESCENDANT OF POCOHONTAS MAY BE NEXT OCCUPANT OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

(By G. B. PARKER)
Editor, The Oklahoma News.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20.—A direct descendant of Pocahontas to occupy the White House?

These things will come to pass if Robert L. Owen of Muskogee succeeds in his ambition to be chief executive of the nation.

Owen is one-sixteenth Cherokee Indian.

Pocahontas belonged to one of the seven tribes of the Cherokee nation. Owen's Cherokee blood comes to him from the same ancestors as those which Pocahontas boasted.

Grandfather a Chief.

The senator's grandfather was an hereditary chieftain of the tribe. Owen is known among his kinsmen as Oconostoto. His grandfather bore the English name of Thomas Chisholm, and he was a friend of Thomas Jefferson.

As a figure in the political life Owen's Indian characteristics evidence themselves in one particular way—by his seeming air of distance when he is among men.

The senator is a most affable companion in his office or home. But in a hotel lobby crowd, his always preoccupied manner gives the impression of "distance." And this trait—a reserve common to the Indian—has always been regarded by Owen himself as a positive liability.

There are those, however, who say it is an asset—that the public is getting tired of and wise to the glad-handing politician.

Family of Romance.

Books could be written of the romance of his family. His mother was highly educated. As a girl she rode overland 1,000 miles to reach a boarding school in Indiana. Her Indian blood was one-eighth.

After she finished school she went to Tennessee as a teacher. There she met a young engineer, Colonel Robert Owen, a man of no Indian blood.

Robert L. Owen is the youngest of two sons.

He was educated in private schools in Virginia and later graduated with a master's degree from Washington and Lee. Here he received the president's scholarship as the most diligent scholar and a gold medal as the best debater.

His interest in the Indians led him into public life—first as principal of the Cherokee orphan asylum later as secretary of the board of education in Indian Territory, as editor of the Indian Chieftain, and as United States agent for the Five Civilized Tribes.

Takes First Step.

As member of the national democratic committee from 1892 to 1896 he took his first step in party politics. He was on the resolutions committee which recommended bimetallism in the famous convention of 1896 that nominated Bryan.

His association with the Commoner in the 24 years intervening leads his supporters to believe that, in event Bryan himself doesn't seek the nomination, his strength may go to Owen. Most spectacular of Owen's alignments with Bryan was in the Roger Sullivan campaign in Illinois in which Owen stumped the state to beat his fellow democrat, Sullivan, charging him with being a ringster of the worst type.

Handsome, well-to-do, Owen as a United States senator since Oklahoma's statehood came, has been a great drawing card as a lecturer.

It is said that during his work on the Owen-Glass federal reserve banking law, he paid out more personal funds hiring investigators and experts to aid him than he received in salary as senator.

Is Ultra-Progressive.

In tone he is regarded as ultra-progressive. Some charge him with radicalism.

As a bosom friend of Samuel Untermyer since boyhood, he has been the frequent guest in that famous New York lawyer's home. There he has met many of the great financiers and industrial captains of the land. And his supporters say that these men, as well as the progressives, are for Owen, because they believe that one who could lead the reserve act to victory in the senate against their combined opposition, and later make them like the very law they so bitterly opposed, has "the stuff."

A few things that Owen has stood for furnish an index to his political nature:

Led the fight in the senate for the constitutional amendment providing for direct election of senators.

Persistent advocate of initiative and referendum, preferential ballot, short ballot, cloture, corrupt practices prevention, commission form of government for cities, mandatory primary laws, farm loan act, minimum wage, workmen's compensation, woman suffrage, department of public health and the child labor act.

Grove's Tasteless Chili Tonic restores vitality and energy by purifying and enriching the blood. You can soon feel its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect. Price 60c. adv

Muskogee Plans to Entertain the Big State Convention

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 20.—Fifteen hundred democrats, delegates from every county in the state, will attend the state convention in Muskogee February 5 if each county sends its full quota.

Muskogee county, with an allotment of 440 delegates, will have the third largest delegation at the convention. Oklahoma and Tulsa counties will have larger delegations.

The purpose of the convention is the election of 40 delegates to the national convention in San Francisco, June 28, and to nominate 10 presidential electors to be voted upon in the general election next November. A national committeeman is also to be elected at the convention.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the convention are under way. For a time Muskogee democrats were concerned least entertainment of the convention be neglected because of the fact that the county committee had no head at the present time.

S. M. Rutherford has taken charge however, and has appointed a finance committee, composed of W. T. Wisdom, L. W. Duncan and O. H. P. Brewer, and an arrangement committee composed of W. M. Gulager, J. A. Barbre and C. A. Looney.

Either the Hinton theater or convention hall will be rented for the convention, Mr. Gulager stated yesterday.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly . . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three . . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children . . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

STAFFORD TO ENTER RACE FOR CONGRESS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20.—Roy E. Stafford will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for congress in the fifth district, according to a statement made yesterday by Judge Jean P. Day, who managed Stafford's campaign last November.

"Mr. Stafford carried three counties and was as good as second in all of them last November. I believe the runner-up is the best man to make a bid for the nomination at the August primaries," Judge Day said. "On account of the fact that there was only three weeks for campaigning before the special election, Mr. Stafford was not able to get over the whole district and I am thoroughly satisfied that a long campaign, giving him the opportunity of getting all of his friends out, will bring him home a winner in August."

BEST HARD WHEAT OF NATION GROWN NEAR KINGFISHER

KINGFISHER, Jan. 21.—Some of the finest wheat produced in the United States is grown in Kingfisher county by the farmers who are raising the Russian turkey hard wheat which was first introduced into this country by immigrant Russians who came to Kansas in the year 1875. At that time the mills were equipped with smooth rolls, and the hard wheat was not desired by the millers of this country, but later when corrugated rolls were put into the flour mills, its fine flour qualities were quickly recognized.

The turkey hard wheat was first brought to Kingfisher county in 1889 by farmers who moved here from Kansas, however, it was not extensively grown in this county or in this state until after the year of 1908 when the Oklahoma Mill company imported a car load of the turkey hard wheat from Russia. This wheat was distributed for seed among farmers near Kingfisher. It was kept separate from all other wheat, so that an excellent quality of hard wheat is grown by practically all of the farmers of the county.

Price is Higher.

This wheat brings 10 cents more on the bushel at the mills in this city than the soft variety. The hard wheat tests out from one to two pounds more than the soft. When a grain of the turkey hard wheat is cut, it has a dark flint color, while the soft variety so widely grown in this country has a perfectly white appearance due to the large amount of starch, while the hard variety contains a large per cent of gluten. That it makes the more excellent flour may be seen in the fact that one barrel of flour made from the Turkey hard wheat will produce twenty loaves of bread more than a barrel of flour made from soft wheat. Bread baked from the Turkey hard wheat flour is perfectly white, and has not that yellow hue found in bread made from soft wheat flour.

Only a few years ago, flour made from the wheat grown in northern states brought 50 cents more on each barrel when exported to foreign markets, than flour exported from the mills in Kingfisher county, but it is different today. Flour made from the Turkey hard wheat by the mills in Kingfisher brings when exported to London and Liverpool the top price paid for flour in the foreign market.

Wheat in Demand. The large milling companies have representatives in the state of Oklahoma for the purpose of buying the Turkey hard wheat which is shipped to the northern states and mixed with the northern grown wheat, since it blends the flour, giving it a finer quality, such as cannot be obtained in the flour made by wheat grown in the northern states.

The finer flour qualities of the Turkey hard wheat have caused the millers of this state to encourage the farmers to raise the better variety by paying higher prices for it. J. Baughman of the Oklahoma Mill Company, says the resourcefulness of this state has not been fully developed. Oklahoma has the soil and the climate for producing as good hard wheat as any state in the United States. J. R. Lankard of the Kingfisher Mill company, says: "It is not generally known that among northern millers the Oklahoma wheat grown in Kingfisher county is considered to be the finest quality of wheat for flour of any grown in this country."

Behind the Scenes at the Fashion Fête

There are two forms of Thrift:

One is to arbitrarily do without things—to deny oneself certain necessities and comforts of life. This narrows ones enjoyment, often reduces ones physical force and, if widely done, reduces the activity and livelihood of many people.

The approved form of Thrift is to BUY CAREFULLY—to secure and use the things needed for comfort and happiness—but to be sure of good quality—to make things last as long as they render good service—and, most important of all, to buy them WHEN THEY CAN BE BOUGHT AT LOWEST PRICES!

That time, for many needed things, is NOW and HERE!

Remarkable January concessions are being made this week on goods of the RIGHT KINDS, that will give long service, and make people very happy in possessing them.
